

2012: Resetting the Count Maya Opinions on 2012

Hermelinda Sapón:

I think that what will happen on 2012 won't be anything bad. More than anything else, it is a reflection that the creator gives to us. What will happen is a change. It will not be a major thing, it does not pose danger, nor destruction. I believe that it is a reflection for the whole community, for all the people to really make an effort to take care of nature. No, nothing is going to happen.
